Invitation

With immense pleasure and profound joy, we extend our most cordial invitation to you for "Wellness Con-2025," the 2nd International Conference on Wellness, to be held at Hind Institute of Medical Sciences (HIMS), Barabanki (on Lucknow-Ayodhya Highway), from 10th to 12th October 2025.

This grand international gathering promises to be a celebration of knowledge, collaboration, and holistic well-being. We warmly welcome all distinguished guests, eminent speakers, enthusiastic participants, and esteemed delegates whose presence and contributions are instrumental in shaping the success of this significant event.

The stage is set and the preparations have been meticulously crafted to align with the conference's central theme of wellness, encompassing the physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual dimensions of health. The organizing committee is confident that this conference will not only meet but exceed your expectations, offering an intellectually stimulating and experientially enriching platform for all.

We are delighted to share that more than seven hundred delegates have already registered, reflecting the overwhelming response and shared enthusiasm towards this unique initiative. The scientific programme is replete with keynote addresses and thematic sessions delivered by eminent speakers from India and abroad, including nine distinguished Padma Shri awardees, whose insights and expertise will illuminate diverse aspects of wellness and health sciences.

The conference will feature a comprehensive scientific bonanza—a series of thought-provoking lectures, panel discussions, and interactive sessions designed to foster learning, innovation, and collaboration among researchers, clinicians, educators, and wellness practitioners. Alongside these academic pursuits, participants will be treated to sumptuous dinners, delicious feasts, and enchanting cultural evenings, providing the perfect blend of intellect & leisure.

"Wellness Con-2025" aspires to serve as a transformative platform that encourages individuals to adopt healthier lifestyles, cultivate positive attitudes, and nurture holistic well-being. It aims to enhance personal and professional productivity, foster physical and mental resilience, and promote environments that support sustained wellness. The sessions and activities have been thoughtfully curated to increase awareness about key factors contributing to overall well-being, and to provide practical tools and resources for leading a healthier, more fulfilling life.

We, the organizers and faculty, eagerly look forward to your gracious presence and active participation in this remarkable event. Together, let us make Wellness Con-2025 a memorable celebration of science, spirit, and shared humanity—a journey towards wellness in its truest sense.

With warm regards
